Hi Brittany, I've just spoke to Marcus Boorman at ACT policing. As he mentioned previously, he'd like to arrange a time for you to participate in another interview - ideally in Canberra as soon as practicable, but Brisbane is also potentially an option if you prefer. I have a bit more info to share with you but wanted to send you a text before I called in case now wasn't a good time? I'm available all afternoon if you want to let me know when would be best to call :) Or if you'd prefer I text/email I can certainly do that too. Cheers, H

Okay, no worries. Sure, I can come down to Canberra again.

Are you free to discuss now?

Hi Britt - last text from me today, I promise! 😊 I've sent through an email confirming some stuff For next week. A quick reminder that if, at any point, it all feels a bit much, we can always make a new plan. I often end up rescheduling police appointments with clients as we get closer to the day.

Enjoy the warm weather up there this weekend, I'm just heading out for a walk with the dog

Heidi-Work Yates-Work

Hi B - Please do let me know if you'd like me to give you a a quick call tomorrow re standard process for a follow-up interview? If so - don't hesitate to let me know what time might work.

I didn't want to overwhelm you with detail today but um thinking a bit more detail may have been useful :)

8:12 pm

I'm very happy to chat re standard process on these matters.
Cheers, H

Good evening Heidi,

Following up on our conversation on Thursday 10 June regarding concerns Brittany may have re: providing her iCloud password due to privacy and whether the scope of access could be more specific to elevate some concerns Brittany may have.

From the outset of the investigation Brittany was informed of the investigation process and that these types of investigations can be quite invasive and this is unavoidable in sexual assault investigations. In addition I have been advise investigators explained to Brittany a number of times that any delay in accessing data or undertaking mobile phone examinations has the potential to decrease the evidentiary value in these matters however, it is the right of any victim to decide whether or not they will permit police to undertake any such examinations.

I have conversed with the investigation team regarding how or what we may do to alleviate Brittany's privacy concerns and unfortunately investigators require full access to all electronic data for the purpose of identifying relevant evidence in relation to a matter and again any restriction in access has the potential to inhibit the investigation and /or investigation outcome.

We are at a significant point in the investigation process and I require a response as soon as possible. If it is the case Brittany is unwilling to provide her iCloud password to police, whatever the reason, I request this be provided in writing at the earliest opportunity for recording purposes.

If you could please speak with Brittany regarding this matter in the coming days it would be appreciated.

Hi Marcus,

Just touching base, noting that I understand your team will now be working to finalise the outstanding matters in the DPP brief.

Are you able to confirm that police will provide my office with a heads up when the remainder of the brief is provided to the DPP? Which we presume may be in the next 1-2 weeks?

As discussed in our earlier conversation it's likely that, if asked, Shane Drumgold will inform the media when he has received the full brief. Noting this is likely to generate further media interest (including direct requests to Ms Higgins for comment) it would be helpful for Ms Higgins to be on notice when the full brief is provided to the DPP. In particular, this will aid her to adhere to the media approach agreed with police, which is that she will not provide any independent comment on the matter, but will be kept in the loop regarding police or dpp media engagement on her matter.

Please let me know if you'd like to discuss further.

Hi Scott,
Thanks for confirming you're the updated contact for this matter.

I'll advise Ms Higgin regarding the 4 week timeline for finalisation of the brief, and welcome your confirmation that you'll advise us when it is complete.

Regarding a face to face meeting, I'm happy to facilitate a request but I'm not confident that Ms Higgins will be open to a personal meeting next week (although thank you for offering to travel to her). To aid her consideration, are you able to provide some further info re the nature of the meeting? I can discuss by phone. You have my mobile or direct line: [REDACTED]

Hi Heidi,
I'm the point of contact for this matter, please touch base with me for any further queries re this investigation. In response to your below question, I have allowed the investigation team a time line of 4 weeks, noting the current COVID restrictions for the remainder of the brief of evidence to be prepared and presented to the DPP and I'm happy to advise when that is complete.

Additionally I will need to see Ms Higgins personally next week and I'm happy to travel to her if that is easier – are you able to facilitate this meeting?

Regards Scott.

Hi Marcus,

Just touching base, noting that I understand your team will now be working to finalise the outstanding matters in the DPP brief.

Are you able to confirm that police will provide my office with a heads up when the remainder of the brief is provided to the DPP? Which we presume may be in the next 1-2 weeks?

As discussed in our earlier conversation it's likely that, if asked, Shane Drumgold will inform the media when he has received the full brief. Noting this is likely to generate further media interest (including direct requests to Ms Higgins for comment) it would be helpful for Ms Higgins to be on notice when the full brief is provided to the DPP. In particular, this will aid her to adhere to the media approach agreed with police, which is that she will not provide any independent comment on the matter, but will be kept in the loop regarding police or dpp media engagement on her matter.

Please let me know if you'd like to discuss further.

Good Afternoon,

Thank-you for the status update.

I'd prefer any information be relayed through my lawyer (cc above). Our last conversation was quite distressing and any way we can mitigate any unnecessary protracted conversations would be preferable.

If your advice pertains to whether or not the DPP are planning to proceed. Please feel free to be as blunt and straight to the point as possible. No need for any long form explanations either way.

In turn, I'll continue to respect your overt preference for my ongoing media silence.

Kind regards,
Brittany
